INSPIRED
By Nature

We often feel connected to the area where we were raised or a place that holds special meaning to us. Perhaps you grew up at Lake Tekapo surrounded by a perennial display of lupins, or in a picturesque coastal town, being in these areas will always feel like home.

You may find yourself drawn to a subdued colour palette reminiscent of the lake where you spent your childhood holidaying with your parents. You may find yourself drawn to the rich, earthy tones of the mountainous landscape where you spent your youth farming cattle. Our connection with a place, past or present is as unique as we are.

Have your home embody it's surroundings or harness the aesthetics of a place that you're forever fond of.

Evoke the feeling of being home with Landscape Reflections.
